

Recommendations and tips for a job application

Clothing:

Clothing should be clean and it should match the job and company you have your interview with. You should avoid dirty shoes at all costs. Your business suit should be tailored to fit perfectly. Minimal make-up for women is perfect but bright colors or too much should be avoided.

Body language:

You should keep eye contact, you shouldn't cross your legs, move your hands a lot and you should sit straight.

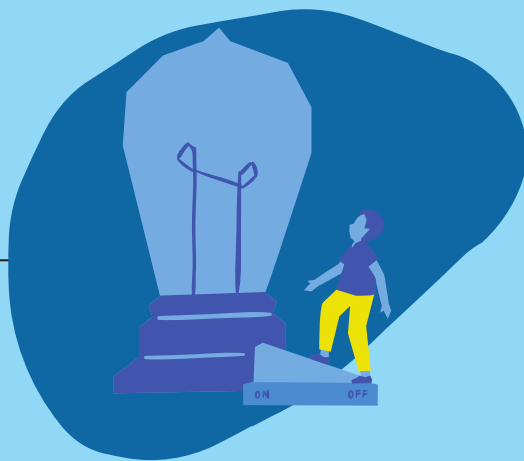

Your strengths and skills:

Talk about your skills and what you're good at. That gives the employer a sense of what you're capable of.

Talents and interests

Give the employer a small insight what you do on your free time. That includes hobbies and interests.

Your vision of future

Talking about your future gives the employer a good idea if you are planning to stay with them for a longer time or if you have other interests beyond just making money.

Real Life Examples

Our subject, Thomas has his interview at 13:00. He has a fancy white T-shirt and fig pants. He makes it there 10min earlier than our second subject, Maria. Maria is late 5 minutes and dressed in a hoodie and flipflops.

Who do you think gets the job?
